OUR POLICY ON ANTI-SLAVERY AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING

The Wates Group Anti-Slavery and Human Trafficking Policy may be found here

We are committed to ensuring, so far as we are able, that there is no modern slavery or human trafficking in our supply chains or in any part of our business and we take a zero-tolerance approach to slavery and human trafficking. Our supply chains include sub-contractors, suppliers, labour agencies and professional services providers. Our Anti-Slavery and Human Trafficking Policy reflects a long-standing commitment to acting ethically and with integrity in all of our business relationships, supported by the development and implementation of effective systems and controls.

OUR ANTI-SLAVERY AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING ASSURANCE PROCESS

As part of an initiative to identify and mitigate risk in respect of slavery and human trafficking, we have:

- Undertaken a slavery and human trafficking risk assessment to enable us to apply a risk-based and proportionate approach to dealing with slavery and human trafficking issues;
- Developed and agreed our Anti-Slavery and Human Trafficking Policy based upon our risk assessment;
- Reviewed the contracts that we have with our supply chain, and amended these to require compliance with the Modern Slavery Act 2015. For those of our supply chain with whom we have entered into a Wates Group trading agreement, we have enhanced our audit process to include slavery and human trafficking issues;
- Mandated, where appropriate, that our supply chain be registered with the Constructionline validation system, which requires our supply chain to confirm their compliance with the Modern Slavery Act;
- Widened the scope of the Wates Group whistle-blowing procedures to include the reporting of modern slavery and human trafficking issues, so that any individual may confidentially raise a potential issue; and
- Developed a third party auditing process for targeted, high risk projects in circumstances where we are procuring directly.

TRAINING

To ensure a high level of understanding of the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking in our supply chains and in our business, we are providing training to our staff on the Modern Slavery Act that is proportionate to the level of risk.

DEVELOPING FOR THE FUTURE

Continued internal monitoring of its supply chains remains a priority for the Wates Group. Those suppliers that have been identified as high risk are more heavily monitored to ensure that their working practices (and those of their supply chain) are compliant.

This statement is made pursuant to section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and constitutes the slavery and human trafficking statement for the Wates Group and its Group companies for the financial year ending 31 December 2016.
